Back in the summer of 2023, the Toronto Writers' Centre was at risk of closing forever. The members joined together to keep it alive, including moving the centre to a brand new location, and are excited to offer more for writers within its walls.

The Toronto Writers' Centre aims to provide a community space with consistent rolling programming monthly that can allow writers to dedicate themselves to their writing practice and have a space dedicated for them to do so. We aim to provide a sense of accountability to the craft.

If you have any questions or suggestions about our programming, need financial assistance to participate or just want to connect with someone to understand more about us, please do not hesitate to reach out to us. We would love to hear from you.
